

Dear Colleague,

Within the framework of the cooperation agreement you have signed with Balıkesir University, we are pleased to invite you to the 4th International Conference on Educational Technology and Online Learning (ICETOL 2024) to be hosted by our university. The Call for Papers is at the end of this text.

I am writing this letter to let you know that we will be happy to have you as a primary collaborator of the conference; within the scope of this collaboration, 50% discount (including lunches and gala dinner and coffee breaks during the conference) will be provided to those who will attend ICETOL 2024 (face-to-face and online) from your university. Attached is the cooperation protocol we have made with many universities, including the Open University (United Kingdom). If you find it suitable, all we need from you is to fill in the blanks in the protocol and get it signed by the authorized person of your institution. As part of this protocol, our expectation from the partner organization is only to announce the conference calls to your staff and students and encourage them to participate either in person or online.

It would also be great if you could extend this invitation to any other interested parties in your country.

We look forward to your cooperation and response.

Best regards,

Gürhan DURAK
Chair, ICETOL

Call for Papers (ICETOL 2024)

Dear colleague,

We are pleased to invite you to the 4th International Conference on Educational Technology and Online Learning (ICETOL) held in Anadolu University, Eskişehir, Türkiye, May 15-17, 2024.

ICETOL is supported by Anadolu University, Balıkesir University, Open University, FHM Online-University, Universidad De Burgos, University of South Africa, and EDTECH-U.

The main aim of the conference is to bring stakeholders to present their studies in the field of educational technology and online learning. The presenters are encouraged to submit and present their works face-to-face or online. In this context, the main theme of ICETOL 2024 is "Exploring Critical Paradigm Shifts in Intelligent Technologies for Open and Distance Education".

All accepted papers will be published in the Proceeding Book, and extended versions of the selected papers will be published in the following journals after a peer-review process:
Journal of Educational Technology and Online Learning – JETOL (indexed in ERIC) (Special Issue for ICETOL)

Asian Journal of Distance Education (indexed in ERIC)

International Journal of Computers in Education

Journal of Online Learning Studies

You can visit our website for detailed information. We would be delighted if you would share our conference with your fellow academics and graduate students.
